INAUGURATION SPECIAL REPORT

Leaders worldwide are asking what kind of impact the Obama administration will have on their businesses. Top influencers will find the insights and answers they need in our Inauguration Special Report this January.

Our editors will look at Barack Obama's plans and explore the types of changes he might make affecting taxes, financial regulation, immigration, and more. With a slew of crucial issues to address, everyone's wondering where he'll start and who will lead his initiatives.

We'll hear from outside experts across industries to get their perspectives on the new President's top priorities. In addition, we'll consider what's possible in the first 100 days, given the current economic climate.

Leverage our connection to the largest audience of global opinion leaders by being part of this important Special Report.
